

Alex T. Hunley

2210 NW Everett, Apt. 210
Portland, OR 97210
T 734.223.6861
athunley@gmail.com
athunley.org

Profile

A soon-to-be law student, looking for employment in the legal, technological, or creative fields. Possesses strong communication skills and general savvy in the digital realm. Is self-motivated while also being a strong team-member.

Experience

Bookseller, Powell's Books; Beaverton, OR 1/07-5/07

Duties included: customer service, ordering books via online interfaces, working the cash register.

Quality Consultant, gForce Technologies; Ann Arbor, MI 5/06-8/06

Quality consultant for the project of building a virtual reality training simulator for the New York City subway system. Duties included: database review and maintenance, technical editing, working and communicating as part of a team on a large-scale project.

Tutor, Green Mountain College, Calhoun Learning Center; Poultney, VT 1/05-2/06

A writing and philosophy tutor in the college's library. Duties included: editing of student papers, assisting students with grammatical and structural issues, helping students study for philosophy and logic courses.

Teaching Assistant, Department of Philosophy, Green Mountain College; Poultney, VT Spring/Fall 2005

Teaching assistant for two courses; one in twentieth-century French and American philosophy's treatment of inherited dualisms, and one in environmental ethics. Duties included: teaching a number of class periods, assisting students with course material, grading student papers and exams.

Education

Green Mountain College, Poultney, VT; B.A. Philosophy, 2006

Honors: 2006 Philosophy Department Outstanding Senior, 2006 Robert T. Marsh Memorial Prize for Best Student Writing, Founder and President of the Philosophy Club

Skills

Have long pursued interests in computers and technology, including maintenance of multiple websites and blogs, rudimentary programming in C/C++ and Perl, and volunteer programming for a community text-based online game (MUD). Quick to pick up new skills as needed.

References available upon request.